Company	APPISTACO APPIST
Company's Location	Jaén, Spain
Appointment's Location	Headquarter
Field of Activity	APPISTACO, Association of Pistachio Producers and Marketers, after more than 8 years of study, emerged in 2014 to develop support work in rural areas for all farmers and entrepreneurs with the cultivation of the plant of the pistachio (Pistacia Vera), serving as an alternative to other crops, such as the traditional olive grove or cereal, which occupy the vast majority of the arable surface of our lands. Exceeding the 1,000 hectares of pistachio planted, they have more than 300 partners spread over different parts of the Spanish geography. They consider new ways to increase the profitability of the agricultural investments made, thus having an optimal economic return for the farmer. The objective of APPISTACO is a clear vocation to promote the sustainable development of agricultural activity, the economic development of our environment and the maintenance of employment in rural areas.
